

Legal/Ads St. Michael's Holistic Natural Health Center will not be held responsible for any third party advertisement of our facility, which results in incorrect classification of our services or products. The only official approved advertisement is on this website, the better business bureau, our Facebook page, approved phone book listings, and any approved radio, television or newspaper ads

St. Michael's Holistic Natural health Center will not be held responsible for any third party classification of our services or products. At times a third party service like Google, merchant circle, yahoo, and other parties classify this facility as a medical. We can not prevent this in this modern day age of technology. Sometimes they assume this must be a medical facility because of this general health label. St. Michael's Holistic Natural Health Center is not responsible for any advertisement where there was no signature granted approval for such advertisement.

St. Michael's Holistic Natural Health Center will not be held responsible for any variation of approved listings, in which the classification is limited by such media. For example, in some phone books, the listing of "alternative medicine" is often used in the yellow section, since the advertisement agency may not offer more specific headings. However, the term "alternative medicine" does not imply the classification of medical services.
